MEMORANDUM FOR: ZBIGNIEW BRZEZINSKI

FROM: GLOBAL ISSUES

SUBJECT: Evening Report

Daily Activities

Tuchman met with representatives of the Arab Graduates of American Universities to discuss Palestinian human rights; prepared decision memo on Chemical Warfare; met with Joe Albright who is doing a piece for the NYT Sunday Mag on CW; prepared decision memo covering all three stages of the LOS process; read and prepared memo on the PRM-12 and PRM-15 case studies contained in the Reorganization study (I was amazed at the number of important errors); prepared memo on an important editorial in the International Herald Tribune urging European support for US proliferation policies; consulted with State and Trevorton-Hyland on a response to Giscard's letter to Carter -- will prepare a draft response by tomorrow; talked to someone from 60 Minutes who is onto the Apollo diversion story. He wants an Administration representative to talk about in on camera. I simply told him that I would get back to him on it. Worked with Sick and Gelb on Israeli arms sales cases; and forwarded the spent fuel storage memo to OMB for their concurrence. This should finally get to you tomorrow.

Kimmitt attended the first meeting of the Arms Export Control Board's working group on arms control impact; addressed a group from the American League for International Security Assistance on the new arms transfer policy; received from CIA an analysis of the Israeli-South African military relationship, which concluded that Israel's desire to find markets for its burgeoning arms industry is dovetailing dangerously well with South Africa's need for sophisticated, modern equipment -- passed the study on to Richardson, who is working on a longer paper on the subject.

were informed that we could not support the loan (the decision is actually to abstain with a statement). They asked whether it is too late for developments to influence our vote and were told that it is not. They then asked what kind of developments would impress us and ARA gave them some examples. It is becoming very clear that they don't much care about the several other loans upcoming, but they really care about this one.

Despite Chairman Willy Brandt's desire to include the Christian Democrats and the Liberals in SI's meeting on human rights, Mitterand -- SI's chief spokesman on human rights -- strongly, and at least for the time being successfully, opposed including the others. As a result, Brandt is now appointing a human rights working group.

Radio Budapest has declared that the US Administration has now cast itself in the self-appointed role of accuser, defender, judge and jury for CSCE. The US thinks that what is good for it is good for the world -- no matter what their social system, level of their social and economic development, their national traditions, their goals, principles, and value systems are like -- are compelled to accept the views, aims and judgments of the ruling circles of the US.
